The Southern Trip

The southern trip of the base ball team is over and as a result, one victory and two defeats have been added to the record of the team for the year.

The boys left Washington on Sunday night at ten o'clock going direct to Roanoke. Weber Bradley and Holland were unable to accompany the team, the squad consisting of Captain Stevenson, McMahon, Van Vliet, Bielaski, Asquith, Burkett, Price, Carr, Thomas and Hutchinson.

On Monday afternoon the team met that from Roanoke College at Salem and won out by a score of 5 to 2. The team in this contest showed up splendidly, hitting the ball hard and fielding perfectly.

On the next afternoon they lined up against Washington and Lee, at Lexington. In this game the team had victory well in hand until the eighth inning, when a combination of bad luck and an error or two changed the result and gave Washington and Lee the game by a score of 6 to 3.

On Wednesday the team reached Charlottesville and played against the University of Virginia. The game was a miserable one and Virginia romped away with it to the tune of 22 to 1. The team showed a complete reversal of form from that of the preceding days and were never in the game for a minute. Not a man on the team played the ball of which he was capable and the easiest kinds of chances were put down in the error column.

The accounts of the games in detail follow.

Roanoke 2, George Washington 5

The game with Roanoke was played under the most unfavorable circumstances. The home grounds are the worst the team has ever struck. They are uneven and rough and the whole field is at a decided angle. The day was cold and a sharp and biting wind blew directly across the diamond throughout the whole game.

Owing to the absence of Weber and Bradley some shifting had to be done in the line up. Stevenson donned the mask and caught, McMahon was brought in from left field to first base and Burkett and Carr were put in the right and left gardens. In spite of all these changes and conditions the team put up the best exhibition it has this year. The fielding was perfect, not an error being made, the most difficult chances were handled with ease and every member of the team was in the game from start to finish.

Stevenson behind the bat caught a hard and steady game. McMahon at first seemed thoroughly at home. The infield worked like a charm, Van Vliet accepting eight chances and Bielaski six and pulling off two fast double plays.

At the bat, ten hits were made. Bielaski lead with a home run and a single and Asquith following with two singles, all the rest with one exception securing one.

Hutchinson was in the box for the buff and blue and was in splendid form. The runs of Roanoke were made by the first two men at bat and after that they never had a show. The south paw had the ball absolutely under control and hits came few and far between.

THE UNIVERSITY HATCHET

The Roanoke team is by no means a weak one. They have a fine infield and a strong all round team but they were outplayed at every stage of the game.

Roanoke's runs came in the first inning. In the fourth, George Washington tied the score and in the sixth, three more tallies landed the game.

Bear the first man up for Roanoke landed on the ball, hitting it into deep right field where it started rolling down the hill and by the time Burkett returned it, Bear was on the home stretch. Dansife, the next up, was hit by pitcher, and on a sacrifice and another hit to right field he made a score. That ended the run getting for Roanoke.

In the fourth our boys fell onto Kitts and drove in two runs. Price started it up by a clean hit between first and second. Asquith laid down a pretty bunt, and made first, Price being retired at second. Stevenson hit the ball for a safe one and then Bielaski by a long drive scored them both.

Asquith hit safe in the sixth. Stevenson drew a base on balls, and again Bielaski drove out a hit. The ball went on a line to center field and on through the fence and all three men trotted home.

In the next two innings no more scoring was done and the final score was 5 to 2.

Washington and Lee 6,

George Washington 3

The game at Washington and Lee which resulted in a victory for the home team by a score of 6 to 3 was a pitchers battle from start to finish. The defeat was a hard one for our team for they seemed stronger in every way than their opponents.

Thomas in the box for George Washington pitched a beautiful game. He had good control, gave no bases on balls and up until the eighth inning allowed but one man to reach first base on a safe hit. The runs scored in the third inning resulted from errors and he had the batters at his mercy. In the eighth, however, on a batted ball which he fielded, he over threw to first base, another infield error was made and these with a couple safe drives brought in five runs giving the game to Washington and Lee. In all Thomas allowed his opponents five hits.

Chilton, the star pitcher of Washington and Lee, was in the box and he also pitched a remarkable game. Except in one inning he was an absolute puzzle and fourteen men went down before him on strike outs. Six hits were made off him. Burkett got two, one of them a home run over left field fence, and Stevenson a hard drive for three bags.

No runs were made by either side until the third inning. Price the first man up for Washington in that inning struck out. Asquith, the next man, drew a base on balls, stole second and scored on Stevenson's three bagger. Bielaski's long fly was gathered in by the center fielder and Stevenson scored another run.

In their half of the same inning, Le Gore secured his base on an error, and scored when Asquith let a swift one from Bagley get past him.

Fast work by both teams prevented further scoring until the eighth inning which was the waterloo for the visitors.

Chilton the first batter hit an easy grounder to Thomas, who in his anxiety to get the man out over threw to first, Chilton taking second. On Asquith's error he reached third and LeGore first. On a bunt and another bad throw by Thomas, and safe hits by Campbell and Pipes and still another error five runs crossed the plate.

In the next turn at bat the boys made a fine effort to even up things. Burkett planted the ball over left field fence for four bags. Hutchinson, batting for Carr, was thrown out at first, Van Vliet hit safe and reached second on Thomas's sacrifice. Then as Price got his base on balls, Van tried for third, reached it and overslid, being caught and retiring the side.

The team played good ball throughout the game and the men all worked hard for victory. The errors in the eighth were all that allowed the other side to score a victory.

Virginia vs George Washington

Virginia, the last team played on the trip was known to have a stronger team than any so far encountered, but the boys were all confident of making a good showing if not winning the game. But from the minute the game started they never had a chance.

There was never a greater change in form than from their playing on Monday and Tuesday and that on Wednesday. It could hardly be believed that the same team was playing.

The fielding was very ragged, nine Virginia men reaching first base on errors. The only redeeming feature was a spectacular one handed catch by Bielaski in the seventh inning, when he gathered in a fly of Cole on a dead run back of short and threw to Van Vliet, completing a double play.

Hutchinson, who started in to pitch the game was batted freely and combined with a number of errors, eleven runs were made off him by the fifth inning—when he was taken out of the box and Carr sent in to replace him. Carr held the batters down for one inning but in the next he gave three bases on balls and five safe hits allowing nine runs to cross the plate. Sixteen hits were made by the Virginia team, Mason, White and Council and Daniel each getting three, including a two bagger.

Cole for Virginia pitched a steady game and kept his hits well scattered. He had seven strike outs and was well supported by his team.

The only run for George Washington was scored in the third inning. Bradley got a hit between short and third, stole second, went to third on a passed ball and came home on Stevenson's single to right field.

Bielaski and Weber, the next two men up, both hit to short stop and were thrown out—leaving Stevenson on base. Several other good chances to score were not taken advantage of. Price the first man up in the first inning reached third base on hot grounder which got past all of the fielders, but Bradley was thrown out, short to first, Stevenson sent a short fly to center field and Bielaski struck out. In the second with only one out, McMahon and Asquith both were safe on singles but Cole struck the next two men out.

The explanation of the playing of the team is not hard to find. The boys had been gotten out of bed at three o'clock in the morning to catch a train, and had been traveling all day. They were tired out and in no condition to play, and the short practice before the game completely exhausted them.

Playing in their usual form the buff and blue can at any time give the Virginia players as close a game as they want. It was unfortunate that reversal came just when we desired to make the best showing.

An Eleven Inning Tie Game

On Thursday evening Williams College and the Varsity team played an eleven inning game on University Field, the score remaining a tie, 7 to 7. The game was one of the best ever seen on the field, both teams playing first class ball. At the end of the eleventh inning the game was called on account of darkness. The lineup of the team was changed by switching Weber and Bradley and the change worked well, Weber doing splendid work behind the bat and Bradley showing up to good advantage at first.

On Dress Parade

Judging from the admiring throngs which crowd about, the most attractive windows in Washington are those of the Harris-Ewing Studio at 1311 F street, where is displayed the photographs of the students of the University, arranged in appropriate groups.

The universal opinion is that their photographs of the fraternity groups are the finest ever exhibited in Washington. The class pictures, showing the students grouped on the steps also come in for a great deal of admiration and praise.

Harris-Ewing Studio certainly have done splendid artistic work on this big job and both have made many friends by their uniform courtesy to the student-body and their painstaking efforts to please.

EWALT R. KATES 728 13TH STREET 20 PRINTER

This is the first year we have ever had an organized branch of Field and Track Athletics at George Washington and inasmuch as its continuance in future years will depend much upon the degree of its success this year, we earnestly trust that the student body will come to the front and lend its staunchest support to the men who are working so hard and conscientiously to build a track team of which their Alma Mater may be proud. It is a matter of fact that the greatest power for good or evil in a University is the student body, and when you consider that the great Universities have become known greatly through their athletics, and have only succeeded in developing their athletics because of the unswerving loyalty of their students, you can readily perceive how much depends upon your individual attitude toward this matter. The policy of "let alone" has never yet produced anything of consequence for nothing is more opposed to success than satisfaction at present conditions. Put your shoulders into the yoke and push this thing on. If you have the real college spirit, you will be glad to do so, if you haven't, cultivate it. It is true that the track team in vulgar parlance, "needs the money" but what they want more is the feeling that the student body is with them, standing ready to back them up and see them through to the end. So come out on Saturday and cheer on these men. They have been working hard, in the face of all sorts of obstacles for their, and your college, and you owe it to them.

"Get busy
In the hustle
Don't get dizzy
If not
For what
You want yourself,
For other's sakes

University Congress

The Congress met in Hall A of the Law Building last Saturday evening, Speaker Shelton in the chair. Immediate consideration was given a resolution looking to Federal control over the formation and operation of corporations engaged in interstate commerce.

Mr. Farley, of Tennessee, for the bill made by far the strongest speech of the evening. In logical outline he presented the conditions to be remedied and present day situation. He then named the four plans, either one of which might, under the terms of the resolution, be adopted and concluded with a statement of the reasons why a federal license would prove effective.

Mr. Riddell, of Washington devoted his time to an attack on the constitutionality of the step, arguing that a bill which would result in the creation or destruction of commerce was not within the power of Congress to enact, under the clause of the Constitution which gives that body the power to "regulate" interstate and foreign commerce.

In the open discussion which followed, Mr. Flowers, of South Carolina, presented a query as to the propriety of Congressional action which would, in the opinion of eminent authorities, place interstate production at the mercy of the central government. Speeches in favor of the resolution were made by Mr. Merritt, of Arkansas and Mr. Caldwell, of Tennessee, while Mr. Fravel, of Virginia, Mr. Kennedy, of Pennsylvania and Mr. Shommer, of Wisconsin opposed it.

In concluding the debate, Mr. Barrett, of the District of Columbia clinched the arguments of his colleague, called attention to the favor with which the step he advocated had been received by the authorities, and in rebuttal denied the unconstitutionality of the proposed legislation. The measure passed.

There will be two more sessions of the Congress this year, the term of Mr. Bone, of Illinois as speaker. These meetings will be held in University Hall and it is earnestly desired that all members who can will be present. At one of these meetings a plan for early organization of the Congress next fall will be determined upon.

The measure to be put upon its final passage next Saturday evening follows:

"Whereas, the issuing of money is purely a governmental function which should be exercised only by the government and not delegated to any individuals, natural or corporate, now therefore

Be it enacted by University Congress in regular session assembled that all laws and parts of laws, granting to National Banks the power to issue currency or bank notes that shall be legal tender for the payment of debts, are hereby repealed."

Mr. Barrett, of the District of Columbia and Mr. Moore, of Tennessee will father the measure. Mr. Merritt, of Arkansas and Mr. Caldwell, of Tennessee will oppose it.

Measure should be passed because

- I. Issuing of money a governmental function and should not be delegated to private parties.
    - a Discrimination in favor of one class against all others.
    - b Money should always be under direct control of the government.
  - II. Bank Notes based on government bonds are standing on government credit for which government has to pay interest to banks.
    - a Government should save expense by issuing notes directly.
  - III. Bank Notes being under control of banks leaves it within their power to expand or contract volume of currency at will to serve selfish interests.
  - IV. Makes it to interest of banks to keep government heavily in debt.
- Brief in opposition to the measure.
Measure should not be passed because it,
- I. Repeals no specific law or statute and provides no substitute for any that may be thereby repealed. If effective, it,
    - a. Abolishes a system that is sound, because
      - 1 based upon business principles
      - 2 subject to regulation and supervision by Comptroller of the Currency.
  - II. Would overthrow a system of currency established for 40 years, resulting in:
    - a Contraction of currency of U. S.
    - b Disturbance of financial conditions resulting in panic.
    - c Overthrow of present system of distribution of currency.

Phi Sigma Kappa

On Monday night at Rauscher's, Lambda Chapter of the Phi Sigma Kappa Fraternity held its fifth annual banquet. The banquet hall was beautifully and artistically decorated with the fraternity and University colors, red and white carnations predominating in the floral display. In addition to members in school, members of the faculty, alumni, and representatives from the Chapters at Dartmouth, Columbia, Cornell, and Mass. Agricultural College, were present.

At ten thirty Arthur R. Swan called for the following toasts: "Lambda's Growth," responded to by H. S. Reger; "Lambda's Ambition," by Clarence M. Booth; "Phi Sigma Kappa Once a Year," by Walter E. Bennett, and "The Spirit of Fraternalism," by P. Rae Hindman. After the toasts, which were enthusiastically received, speeches were called for from Drs. F. A. King and D. K. Shute, Hon. Geo. B. Cortelyou, and P. J. Eder, of New York.

Co-Ed Notes

On Thursday evening, April Thirteenth, the final social meeting of the Woman's League for the year was held in the College Library. The entertainment which took the form of "Ye Distrikt Skule" afforded great amusement for all. About twenty girls in costume entertained the visitors with songs, recitations and speeches, Miss Magoffin and Miss Merrill receiving the prizes as the best pupils. Rag dolls, sticks of candy and much-beribboned pigtailed were greatly in evidence among the scholars, and all dignity was laid completely aside.

Dainty refreshments were served in the Library after school was dismissed and later, dancing was indulged in. There were several visitors and patronesses beside the members. And the decision seemed to be unanimous that the Woman's League had successfully carried out its last social venture for the term.

Mechanical Engineering Society

Another evidence of the advanced position the Mechanical Engineering Department of the University is taking is most apparent in the following letter from Mr. Henry F. Greene, acting president of the board of examiners of the Civil Service Commission.

"In reply to your letter of April 11, you are informed that the Commission will place on the list of approved technical schools, diploma from which entitles the holder to promotion without further examination to a junior engineer position in the Engineering Department at Large, any school recommended by the chairman of the central board of examiners for the Engineer Department at Large. Action has been taken to have the Department of Mechanical Engineering of the George Washington University placed on this list."

The usual activity displayed in this department within the last two years, particularly this year, and the projects for its future advancement are most noticeable from the continued favorable comment upon it. It is a great pleasure to note this advancement and it is to be hoped that the other departments may move forward with it.

At 8 o'clock in the evening of April 25th Calvin C. Reynolds, Patent Office Examiner, will deliver a paper before the Mechanical Engineering Society of George Washington University. The paper, the subject of which is "Rotary Engines and Turbines," will be read in West Hall.

Mr. Reynold's ability to handle such a subject is well known and his duty as an examiner so places him that he is thrown in constant touch with the very latest ideas in this direction. Besides, Mr. Reynolds takes especial interest in his topic and hopes to make his paper unusually interesting to his audience.

The Mechanical Society feeling the great universal interest such a subject possesses, takes pleasure in inviting all the members of the Electric and Civil Engineering Societies to be present that evening and further extends an invitation to all students and their friends who are at all interested in this or any mechanical subject to attend.

This paper and meeting is to be the first in its completed organization of the Mechanical Society. And is planned to be followed by several more equally interesting lectures.

Interclass Meet

The first inter-class meet was held on Saturday afternoon at University Field. It was a success from every standpoint. The events were interesting and well contested and the attendance was large enough to pay expenses.

A larger crowd had been expected but considering that this is the first event of the kind that was ever held at the University—and the fact that the list of contestants was so large and so representative of the different departments, the management feels much encouraged at the showing made.

The hundred yard dash was the first closely contested event on the card and Britton had to do the distance in ten and one-fifth seconds to win out.

The four-forty was also a close one. Stivers took the lead at the start and with a long stride kept it until the last lap when Law took the lead and kept it to the finish.

The field events were all closely contested, the high jump especially, Matthews winning out from Stanley and Moore.

The relays, which had been expected to prove the most interesting events of the meet were the biggest disappointment. In both the freshmen and junior relays only one team turned out. The Law and College relay was won by the College.

The cup to be awarded to the victorious class was declared by the judges to be won by the freshmen medical and dental classes, the judges considering these classes to be identical. Their ruling has met with objection from the Law Department and a protest has been filed with the Athletic Council by the Law Class of '07.

THE UNIVERSITY HATCHET

The day was a fine one for the affair and weather was just cold enough to make the athletes put forth their best efforts and not too chilly for the spectators.

The meet resulted in a victory for the first year Medical and Dental Classes that class scoring twenty points. A first place in any event except a relay counted five points, a second place three points and third place one point.

The score of the various classes was:

| College, '06 | 13 |

BASE BALL SATURDAY

George Washington vs Georgetown

Georgetown Field

George Washington and Williams Tie

The game played by the varsity team against Williams on Thursday was one of the best ever seen on University Field and at the end of the eleventh inning when Umpire Wefers called the game at the end of the eleventh inning the score stood 7 to 7.

At the start it seemed as if the game was to be a struggle between the two pitchers but in the fourth our boys fell on Ford, the Williams twirler and drove him to the bench—in the sixth Holland weakened and he too was taken out of the game, Thomas replacing him. Both these pitchers did well and held their opponents down during the remaining innings.

The fielding of both teams was good and with two exceptions the errors were not costly. Nesbitt, the short stop for Williams was the star of the game. He made two brilliant stops and caught his man each time and he led the visitors at the bat with three hits. Wadsworth who went to right field in the eighth inning also did fine work, making two hard catches in the tenth inning and throwing Van Vliet out at first in the last inning. Stevenson led at the bat for George Washington getting a single and a two bagger.

Weber, Bradley and Asquith each got two hits and Burkett one, a home run which brought in three scores.

Williams secured the first run in the second inning. Asquith threw high to catch Westervelt and Bradley failed to get Hogan's grounder. Neild sent a grounder to Van Vliet, and Westervelt scored on the throw to first. Weber missed the third strike on Warren but caught his man at first and Bradley threw back, catching Hogan at the plate and completing a double play. In their turn at bat, George Washington got one run on Bielaski's base on balls, Weber's single and Van Vliet's out. In the fourth Washington landed on Ford and retired him. Bielaski and Asquith singled and Burkett brought them both in by a home run drive to left field.

In the fifth, McCarty, the Williams captain, took his base on balls, scoring on Nesbitt's double to left. On an infield hit by Bradley Stevenson's sacrifice and Weber's single another run resulted for Washington.

In the sixth inning, Williams repeated the performance of their opponents in the fourth and drove Holland out of the game. Hogan, the first man up got his base, Neild singled and Warren planted the ball in left field for three bases. He scored on an infield hit—tying the score.

In the seventh, Washington again took the lead on errors by Neild and Harmon and a bunt by Stevenson. In the ninth Williams got two more on safe hits by Bonham, Nesbitt and Westervelt and in the last half a single by Bradley and a double by Stevenson scored an additional run for the home team and again tied the score.

In the tenth, both sides went out in one, two, three order. Warren and Harmon being thrown out by Asquith and Osterhault hitting a high one to Van Vliet. Weber and Asquith fled out to right field, and Burkett to center field.

In the eleventh, McCarty got his base on error, Bonham went out pitcher to first, Nesbitt sent a fly to Bielaski and Price gathered in Westervelt's fly to center field retiring the side. Van Vliet went out on a fast play by Wadsworth, Thomas struck out and Price singled. Bradley hit a fast one to third base but was beaten by the throw.

It was too dark then to permit of further play and the umpire called the game.

The score:

Stevenson played first, Hutchinson third, and Manager Sutton was compelled to don base ball clothes and play in right field. Holland pitched.

Phi Chi

On last Friday night eight students of the Medical Department were initiated into the mysteries and wonders of the Phi Chis', and into the bonds of friendship which death alone can terminate. The "goat" which had been held in readiness for several weeks was in excellent condition, and entered into the spirit of the occasion with such a "vis a tergo" that it will probably be a long time before the new brothers forget the events of the evening. After the initiation ceremonies were over, the company repaired to Rauscher's where a banquet was spread.

The menu was tempting and was served in excellent style. Mr. T. F. Murphy, President of the Fraternity, acted as toastmaster, and called upon the following brothers all of whom promptly responded, Drs. J. Ford Thompson, J. W. Boyée, W. F. R. Phillips, H. S. Medford, E. P. Copeland, L. H. Reichelderfer, L. H. Taylor, Messrs. C. C. Ammerman, A. C. Garton, R. L. Spire, A. N. Tasker, and A. L. Hunt.

Besides the above the following members were present, Dr. E. G. Seibert, Messrs. Paul Anderson, H. Baldwin, W. R. Barnesby, C. F. Bower, W. A. Boyd, F. J. Brown, H. J. Bryson, D. P. Bush, W. F. Cowan, E. T. M. Franklin, W. J. French, T. E. Griffith, R. C. Heflebower, R. A. Hooe, G. I. Jones, H. W. Kearney, C. S. Lawrence, W. A. Mess, C. A. Pfender, A. H. Robinett, C. C. Weidemann, A. J. Wheeler, E. C. Wilson, W. W. Wilkinson, L. L. Whitney, and R. T. Williams.

Later in the evening a number of musical selections were rendered. W. R. Barnesby, the "sweet singer" of the Sophomore Class sang two or three solos and was heartily encored, while the comic song by A. L. Hunt was thoroughly appreciated. The remainder of the evening was spent in singing college and fraternity songs, Franklin and Robinett playing the accompaniments.

Omega Alpha

The Omega Alpha Fraternity gave an attractive luncheon Monday noon, April 17, in Room 11. The table was prettily decorated in smilax and white roses, and the red lights added to the effectiveness. About fifty friends of the girls including many of the professors of the college were present and all spent a most enjoyable hour.

The hostesses of the occasion were Miss Balentine, president of the fraternity, and the active chapter, Miss Pistorio, Miss De Forest, Miss Barbour, Miss Smith, Miss Harrington, Miss Greene, Miss Cole, Miss Person, Miss Barbour, Miss Wychgal.

Civil Engineering Society

The Civil Engineering Society of the University held its second regular meeting on Thursday, April 20th. The attendance was good and the interest shown in the meeting and in the discussion of the matter presented augurs well for the success of the society.

Professor Pressey gave a most interesting and inspiring address upon the ethics of civil engineering, and if the future career of the Civil Engineering students of George Washington University is not characterized by profound respect for their profession and stern honesty in its practice, the reflection is not upon their professor.

Mr. Harley, of the Senior Class, gave a very instructive talk upon the methods of stream measurement as practiced by the Geological Survey. He has had considerable experience in this important branch of the government's work and his talk brought out much interesting discussion.

Upon motion of Mr. Hartley the Society extended an unanimous vote of thanks to Professor Pressey and Mr. Harley for their contributions to the success of the meeting, and adjourned.

Chess Club

The closing of the University buildings for the Easter recess, though it shut the Columbian Chess Club out from its accustomed haunts proved to be for the members a blessing in disguise. For its regular meeting last Friday the club accepted the invitation of the Vice-President, Miss Barbour, to meet at her home in northeast Washington. In spite of the bad weather an enthusiastic majority assembled. The regular games for the evening were played before the business meeting and the latter was hurried through in order that the members might partake in reasonable time of the dainty refreshments provided by the hostess.

The standing of the members in the tournament is now.

Medical Notes

The new catalogue of our Department has at last put in an appearance and looks very attractive in its new colors, buff and blue, with the new seal on the title page.

Commencement for the Department of Medicine will be held on Monday, May 29th.

It is interesting to note the development of the Medical course; how it was established in March, 1825, as a two years course of five months each, then a spring session was added, which was devoted to lectures on the special branches. In 1879, the course was lengthened to seven months, and attendance upon three annual sessions was required. In 1893, attendance upon four regular courses was made obligatory and the present course extends over four years of eight months each.

The new catalogue offers a five years optional course to begin with the session of 1905-1906.

Some of the foremost medical colleges in the country have arranged their courses so that practically all of the senior year is devoted to clinical work in the hospital.

Our own school has now adopted this method, which will be carried out in the future both in the regular four years' course, and the five years' optional course.

Georgetown Saturday

On Dress Parade

Judging from the admiring throngs which crowd about, the most attractive windows in Washington are those of the Harris-Ewing Studio at 1311 F street, where is displayed the photographs of the students of the University, arranged in appropriate groups.

The universal opinion is that their photographs of the fraternity groups are the finest ever exhibited in Washington. The class pictures, showing the students grouped on the steps also come in for a great deal of admiration and praise.

Harris-Ewing Studio certainly have done splendid artistic work on this big job and both have made many friends by their uniform courtesy to the student-body and their painstaking efforts to please.

EWALT R. KATES 20 PRINTER
726 13TH STREET

Our big game is at hand. On Saturday afternoon the base ball team journeys across the creek and crosses bats with Georgetown. The showing Georgetown has made this year proves her to have one of the best base ball teams in the country and has rather disheartened our students. But it need not do so. In the Williams' game last week Georgetown only won by a score of 8 to 5 and the next day our boys held the same team down to 7 to 7 in eleven innings. Playing ball like they did on that day the Washington team will be able to make Georgetown hustle to win..

The southern trip of the team was not a bad one and in spite of the fact that they lost two of three games they made a good showing.

The support the team has received from the student body this year has been miserable. The sale of season tickets amounted to almost nothing and the attendance at the recent games has been very poor. At the game on Thursday with Williams, as good a game as anyone wants to see, there was barely a handful of students present to cheer the team on. And yet with such support the students expect us to go out and defeat all the teams we meet and end up by beating Georgetown. With a spirit they show now such a result will never be accomplished.

Come out and support the team and you will find that they do as good work as any team in the country and it will not be many years before we shall be spared these annual defeats from Georgetown.

Come to the game on Saturday. When you get there back up and cheer the team.

University Congress

On account of Easter recess there was no meeting of University Congress last Saturday evening. Speaker Bone is said to be in favor of debating the Philippine question at the next regular meeting.

The question, speakers and briefs appear below.

The intention of University Congress had been to adjourn for the session after next Saturday's meeting. This plan may be carried out though there are several important matters of business which the Congress must dispose of before final adjournment.

In the last days of the year a growing desire to continue meetings through the summer has been apparent. Several men who are not now members and who will be in the city during vacation have expressed a desire to attend a summer session. There are also members who are not doing University work at present who would find no more difficulty in the way of attending such meetings than they have through the winter. It is desired that all who contemplate taking part in a summer session be present at the meeting next Saturday evening.

The question of organizing in order that the work of University Congress may next year be commenced earlier than it was this year will also be discussed.

Next Saturday evening the following resolution will be put upon its final passage, "Be it resolved by University Congress in regular session assembled that it is the sense of the Congress that the President of the United States should, with the advice and consent of the Senate, conclude with Japan a treaty providing for the sale of the Philippine Islands to her for a price of about $50,000,000."

Mr. Flowers, of South Carolina and Mr. Everett, of Maryland will support the measure and Mr. Shommer, of Wisconsin and Mr. Merrit, of Arkansas will oppose it.

Brief for the Bill.

I. Beneficial to the United States.

A Rid them of unprofitable burden.

1 Philippine expenses far exceed receipts.

2 Retention of Filipinos undesirable.

a As citizens.

1 We should dispose of present race question before taking up new one.

b As subjects.

1 Colonization incompatible with republic.

aa From inherent nature of Republican institutions.

bb From teaching of History.

B Would cement friendship of Japan.

II. Beneficial to Filipinos by associating with

A Another Oriental people.

B A Suzerian close at hand.

III. Japan proper Suzerian of Filipinos.

A Monarchy more proper colonizing power.

B Japan's recent advance from semi-civilization fits her for solving similar conditions in Philippines.

Brief against the Bill.

I The price is insufficient.

II. It is contrary to the treaty provision to dispose of the Philippines at present.

III. They are needed as a coaling and supply station for our navy.

IV. In case of war in the East, to protect American interests there.

The Mall

At the last meeting of the Association of Class Presidents, the following rules were adopted for the future publication of the University Annual "The Mall."

Rule 1—The Association of Class Presidents shall annually on or about May 20th elect by ballot from among the student body of the University an Editor-in-Chief of the "Mall," who shall serve for one year from the date of his election and until his successor is elected.

And they shall at the same time and in like manner elect a Business Manager of the "Mall" who shall serve for the same length of time.

Rule 2.—Applications for these positions should be sent or handed to some member of the Association of Class Presidents and by him shall be presented to the Association for consideration, together with a statement of the qualifications of the applicant.

Rule 3—"The Mall Board" shall consist of the following:

1st. The Editor-in-Chief and Business Manager.

2d. One Editor from each regularly organized class in the University, who shall be selected in such manner as the class shall determine.

3d. One member of the faculty, selected by the President's Council.

4th. One Alumnus, selected by the President's Council.

Rule 4—The Editor-in-Chief shall be Chairman of the Board, and shall have entire charge of the literary and artistic composition of "The Mall." He shall hold meetings of the Board, assign work to the various class editors, offer prizes for material for publication, pass upon matter submitted by the class editors and others, and in general superintend the publication. He shall be allowed large discretion in the detail of the work, and will be held responsible for results.

Rule 5—The Business Manager shall have entire charge of the business management of the publication and circulation of the "Mall." He shall solicit advertisements and subscriptions, make arrangements for securing photographs, make all necessary contracts with printers and engravers, and collect and pay out all moneys in connection with the publication of the "Mall."

He shall submit a report to the Chairman of the Finance Committee of the Association of Class Presidents at the close of his term of service, setting forth in detail the receipts and disbursements of the Board during the year, which report shall be approved by said Committee before being accepted by the Association.

Rule 6—"The Mall" shall be published annually at or near the close of the school year, and shall in so far as possible reflect the student life and activities of the University. Special attention and honor shall be given therein to the graduating classes of the University.

Rule 7—Should a class editor, as above provided, fail to perform the work assigned him by the Editor-in-Chief, or in any way prove unsatisfactory, such fact should be reported to the President of the Association by the Editor-in-Chief, and it will be his duty to bring the matter before the Association at an early date, where both the complaint of the Editor-in-Chief and the defense, if any, of the Class Editor, shall be heard. If no satisfactory settlement of the matter can be had, his class will be notified of that fact, and they will be allowed to select another editor.

Rule 8—The Chairman of the Finance Committee of the Association of Class Presidents, together with a member of the faculty to be selected by the President's Council, shall audit the accounts of the Business Manager at the close of his term of service, and shall receive from him and turn over to his successor any money belonging to the Board then in his hands. The Chairman of the Finance Committee shall at the close of this work cause to be published in THE HATCHET a summary of his report.

Rule 9—The Editor-in-Chief and Business Manager shall have a reasonable time after the election of their successors in which to close up any matters in connection with the work of the Board that may be then pending. It shall be their duty to render all the assistance within their power to their successors in the way of explaining the details of the work and the methods pursued.

Rule 10—These Rules may be amended by a majority vote at any regular or called meeting of the Association of Class Presidents, and until so amended shall be in full force and effect from the date of their adoption.

Unanimously adopted April 16, 1905.

IRVIN S. PEPPER,
President.

E. C. WILSON,
Secretary.

About the Law School

The members of our team on the Georgetown Debate are at work boiling down their speeches. The University Orchestra may furnish the music on the evening of the debate.

An effort is being made to secure sufficient representation at the meeting of the "Tight Wads" next Friday evening to secure definite action as to the recently adopted design for the pin.

Among this year's law seniors who will return for the graduate course are Waite and Fox.

F. W. Waite, Law, '04, was last Friday accosted by a young lady who asked to be directed to the Health Office. Waite did not know its location, but accompanied her to an officer who was near. The officer mistaking Waite's question and supposing the good looking young couple desired domestication, directed him to the county clerk's office.
